DECLARATION.

ALTHOUGH the Congress, whom the misguided Americans suffer to direct their Opposition to a Re-establishment of the constitutional Government of these Provinces, have disavowed every Purpose of Reconciliation, not consonant with their extravagant and inadmissible Claim of Independency, the King's Commissioners think fit to declare, that they are equally desirous to confer with his Majesty's well-affected Subjects, upon the Means of restoring the public Tranquillity, and establishing a permanent Union with every Colony, as a Part of the British Empire.

The King being most graciously disposed to direct a Revision of such of his Royal Instructions as may be construed to lay an improper Restraint upon the Freedom of Legislation, in any of his Colonies, and to concur in the Revival of all Acts by which his Subjects there may think themselves aggrieved, it is recommended to the Inhabitants at large, to reflect seriously upon their present Condition, and Expectations, and to judge for themselves whether it be more consistent with their Honor and Happiness to offer up their Lives as a Sacrifice to the unjust and precarious Cause in which they are engaged, or to return to their Allegiance, accept the Blessings of Peace, and be secured in a free Enjoyment of their Liberty and Properties, upon the true Principles of the Constitution.

Admiralty-Office, July 30.

BY Letters from Capt. Douglas of his Majesty's Ship Isis, dated at Quebec the 26th and 27th of last Month, it appears, that immediately after raising the Siege of Quebec, of which he gave an Account in his Letters of the 8th and 15th of May, every proper Measure was taken to facilitate the farther Operations against the Rebels, by sending down the River all the Pilots which could be procured to bring up the Transports that were daily expected with Gen. Burgoyne from England and Ireland; and, that no Time might be lost on their Arrival, he had provided Pilots for the upper River, and placed Frigates and armed Vessels in proper Stations to assist and escort them; and also, lest the Transports should be prevented by contrary Wind from sailing up the River, he had stationed Vessels with Provisions at proper Places for the Use of the Troops, if they should be obliged to disembark and march by Land. By these Dispositions, all the Transports with Troops, which had Pilots on board, proceeded up the River without stopping at Quebec, and arrived at Three Rivers Time enough to defeat the Rebels, and afterwards drive them from St. John's, and all their Posts below Lake Champlain. Captain Douglas in the same Letter says, that the prudent and spirited Behaviour of Captain Harvey, of the Martin Sloop, cannot be too much commended; and that the Zeal, Vigour, and Unanimity of his Majesty's Servants on both Elements was scarcely equalled on any other Occasion within his Remembrance. He also writes that he was, in Concert with General Carleton, considering upon a proper Establishment for armed Vessels to be employed on the Lakes Champlain and Ontario, and in contriving the most expeditious Means of getting them, with other Craft, on the said Lakes, in order to the better accelerating the Passage of the Army; and that Captain Harvey, of the Martin, was returning to Sorel in order to examine into the Means of floating between Camels (as is practised in Russia and Holland) through the Rapids of Chamble into Lake Champlain, the six armed Vessels, one of which was already arrived from England, and the others hourly expected.

Admiralty-Office, July 30. Captain Le Cras, Senior Captain of his Majesty's Ships at Plymouth, in his Letter, dated the 26th Instant, has the following Paragraph, viz. "The Mercury Brig, a Prize to the Cerberus and Merlin, arrived the Night before; and the Person who had the Command of the said Brig says, they parted from the Cerberus the 26th of June, Block Island on the Coast of America, bearing N.N.E. Distance 17 Leagues; and that they then saw Vice Admiral Shuldham with his Squadron, and the Transports under his Convoy, steering W. by S. for New-York; and that on the Evening before they had seen the Greyhound Frigate, with General Howe on board."

Admiralty-Office, July 30. By a Letter received from Vice Admiral Young, dated at Antigua the 31st of May last, it appears, that Captain Bryne, of his Majesty's Ship the Hind, which had been sent on Service to St. Augustine in the Province of Georgia, having Intelligence that the Rebels were fitting armed Vessels in the adjacent Rivers; and being at Anchor off Sunbury River, he ordered Lieutenant Ellis of the Hinchinbrooke armed Schooner, with the Ship's Tender and Boats, manned and armed to proceed over the Bar, where they set on Fire a Brig that was loading, and a Ship on the Stocks, intended by the Rebels for a Privateer to carry 20 Guns. It further appears from the Admiral's aforementioned Letter, that since the Account transmitted in his Letter of the 3d of March, and published in the Gazette the 8th of last Month, the Cruisers under his Command had seized 17 more Ships and Vessels, either belonging to or employed in carrying on a Trade with his Majesty's rebellious Subjects in North America.

Cowes, July 12. Yesterday was seized, and brought into this Port, by the Dolphin Custom-House-Cutter, Capt. John Miller, an American Sloop, belonging to New-York, laden with Sugar, Rum, and Tobacco, at Santa Cruz, for Amsterdum.

Edinburgh, July 9. Yesterday there was a general Meeting of the Proprietors of the Bank of Douglas, Heron and Co. It appeared from the State of their Funds, laid before the Meeting, that the whole capital Stock paid in (400l. upon each Share) was lost, and that there was still a Deficiency of 70,000l. It was proposed as the most advantageous Way of extricating the Company, to raise that Sum (which amounts to 300l. upon each 500l. Share) by three equal Payments at Martinmas next, Whitunday, and Martinmas, 1777. This Proposal was agreed to by almost all the Gentlemen present.

July 10. It has been recommended to the Convention of Burghs now met, to apply to Parliament, (if the Funds of the Trustees are not sufficient) for their Assistance to promote the Fisheries on the West Coast and Islands of Scotland, which have hitherto been shamefully neglected, and, if properly encouraged, might prove a great Source of Wealth, as well as an immense Nursery for Seamen.

L O N D O N,

July 16. The Public Advertiser of July 14th contains a short Letter, addressed to the Printer, which says, "The Account in your Paper of the Lynx Sloop of War being taken by the Rebels, and carried into Philadelphia, is an impudent Falshood, manifestly designed for the Purpose of imposing upon the Public. She arrived two Months since from Antigua, with Dispatches from Admiral Young, and has been paid off above three Weeks."

A Letter from Madrid, dated June 30, says, "It is now no longer a Secret that the Spanish Squadron, commanded by Admiral Gaton, is to act against the Moors; he is to be joined by a French Squadron; they are to act in Conjunction, with a View of giving the Infidels a fatal Blow."

A Letter from Jamaica mentions, that the following American Vessels under Spanish Colours, have been taken by two of his Majesty's Frigates within a few Leagues of the Havannah, and carried into Port Royal, viz. the Edward, the Mary and Ann Brigantine, and the Flower of the Sea, a Snow, all laden with warlike Stores.

His Majesty's Ship Maidstone, Capt. Gardner, has taken an American Sloop with Flour, and carried her into Kingston, Jamaica.

A Letter from Jamaica, brought by the Dawkins, Capt. Hall, from that Island, mentions, that on the Day of their sailing from thence, three American Vessels, which had been taken by his Majesty's Cruisers, were brought into that Port, and that every Thing was in a perfect State of Tranquillity on the Island.

The —, Capt. Marsham, from Jamaica to Bristol, is taken by the Provincials, and carried into Philadelphia.

Extra of a Letter from Vienna, June 26.

"The following Account does too much Honour to Mankind not to be made publick.

"One of the unfortunate Sufferers at the Fire of Warasdin, having lost all his Merchandise and Papers, and having in vain solicited his Family and pretended Friends to assist him in re-establishing his Business, resolved to go to a Correspondent at Agram, and beg of him to employ him in his Manufactory, but he was prevented by meeting him at a small Distance from the burning Town; they embraced each other, and his Friend said to him, "I have brought you a Receipt for what you owe me. There, take these 6000 Florins in Gold, take them I insist upon it, and dispose of my Magazine. You are an honest Man, that is Security sufficient for me, and I will take no other."

Extra of a Letter from Portsmouth, July 17.

"The Hector Man of War, of 74 Guns, is put into Commission at this Port as a Guardship, and Sir John Hamilton appointed to the Command.

"The Courageux Man of War, of 74 Guns, is ordered to be docked and fitted as a Guardship, at this Port, in the room, as it is said, of the Marlborough."

Sir Thomas Rich, in his Majesty's Ship the Enterprize, met with a French Fleet, of two Ships of the Line, and several Frigates, commanded by the Duke of Chartres. The French bore down upon her, and the Admiral hailed the Enterprize, and ordered the Captain to come on board immediately; to which he replied, that if the Admiral had any Thing to communicate to him, he might come on board the Enterprize, as he should not go out of his Ship. The Duke insisted that he should, or he would sink him; and the French Ships accordingly pointed their Guns at the Enterprize; but Sir Thomas Rich, regardless of their hostile Threats and Preparations, declared that he never received any Orders but from his own Admiralty, and that they were at Liberty to fire whenever they pleased, as he positively would not go on board; upon which the Duke of Chartres admired his spirited Conduct, and begged it as a Favour that he would do him the Honour of coming on board, as he wished much to be better acquainted with him; Sir Thomas Rich immediately went, and was received with the most Respect by all the Officers.

DECLARATION.

ALTHOUGH the Congress, whom the misguided Americans suffer to direct their Opposition to a Re-establishment of the constitutional Government of these Provinces, have disavowed every Purpose of Reconciliation, not consonant with their extravagant and inadmissible Claim of Independency, the King's Commissioners think fit to declare, that they are equally desirous to confer with his Majesty's well-affected Subjects, upon the Means of restoring the public Tranquillity, and establishing a permanent Union with every Colony, as a Part of the British Empire.

The King being most graciously disposed to direct a Revision of such of his Royal Instructions as may be construed to lay an improper Restraint upon the Freedom of Legislation, in any of his Colonies, and to concur in the Revival of all Acts by which his Subjects there may think themselves aggrieved, it is recommended to the Inhabitants at large, to reflect seriously upon their present Condition, and Expectations, and to judge for themselves whether it be more consistent with their Honor and Happiness to offer up their Lives as a Sacrifice to the unjust and precarious Cause in which they are engaged, or to return to their Allegiance, accept the Blessings of Peace, and be secured in a free Enjoyment of their Liberty and Properties, upon the true Principles of the Constitution.

GIVEN at New-York, the 19th Day of September, 1776.

Admiralty-Office, July 30.

BY Letters from Capt. Douglas of his Majesty's Ship Isis, dated at Quebec the 26th and 27th of last Month, it appears, that immediately after raising the Siege of Quebec, of which he gave an Account in his Letters of the 8th and 15th of May, every proper Measure was taken to facilitate the farther Operations against the Rebels, by sending down the River all the Pilots which could be procured to bring up the Transports that were daily expected with Gen. Burgoyne from England and Ireland; and, that no Time might be lost on their Arrival, he had provided Pilots for the upper River, and placed Frigates and armed Vessels in proper Stations to assist and escort them; and also, lest the Transports should be prevented by contrary Wind from sailing up the River, he had stationed Vessels with Provisions at proper Places for the Use of the Troops, if they should be obliged to disembark and march by Land. By these Dispositions, all the Transports with Troops, which had Pilots on board, proceeded up the River without stopping at Quebec, and arrived at Three Rivers Time enough to defeat the Rebels, and afterwards drive them from St. John's, and all their Posts below Lake Champlain. Captain Douglas in the same Letter says, that the prudent and spirited Behaviour of Captain Harvey, of the Martin Sloop, cannot be too much commended; and that the Zeal, Vigour, and Unanimity of his Majesty's Servants on both Elements was scarcely equalled on any other Occasion within his Remembrance. He also writes that he was, in Concert with General Carleton, considering upon a proper Establishment for armed Vessels to be employed on the Lakes Champlain and Ontario, and in contriving the most expeditious Means of getting them, with other Craft, on the said Lakes, in order to the better accelerating the Passage of the Army; and that Captain Harvey, of the Martin, was returning to Sorel in order to examine into the Means of floating between Camels (as is practised in Russia and Holland) through the Rapids of Chamble into Lake Champlain, the six armed Vessels, one of which was already arrived from England, and the others hourly expected.

Admiralty-Office, July 30. Captain Le Cras, Senior Captain of his Majesty's Ships at Plymouth, in his Letter, dated the 26th Instant, has the following Paragraph, viz. "The Mercury Brig, a Prize to the Cerberus and Merlin, arrived the Night before; and the Person who had the Command of the said Brig says, they parted from the Cerberus the 26th of June, Block Island on the Coast of America, bearing N.N.E. Distance 17 Leagues; and that they then saw Vice Admiral Shulham with his Squadron, and the Transports under his Convoy, steering W. by S. for New-York; and that on the Evening before they had seen the Greyhound Frigate, with General Howe on board."

Admiralty-Office, July 30. By a Letter received from Vice Admiral Young, dated at Antigua the 31st of May last, it appears, that Captain Bryne, of his Majesty's Ship the Hind, which had been sent on Service to St. Augustine in the Province of Georgia, having Intelligence that the Rebels were fitting armed Vessels in the adjacent Rivers; and being at Anchor off Sunbury River, he ordered Lieutenant Ellis of the Hinchinbrooke armed Schooner, with the Ship's Tender and Boats, manned and armed to proceed over the Bar, where they set on Fire a Brig that was loading, and a Ship on the Stocks, intended by the Rebels for a Privateer to carry 20 Guns. It further appears from the Admiral's aforesaid Letter, that since the Account transmitted in his Letter of the 3d of March, and published in the Gazette the 8th of last Month, the Cruisers under his Command had seized 17 more Ships and Vessels, either belonging to or employed in carrying on a Trade with his Majesty's rebellious Subjects in North America.

Cowes, July 12. Yesterday was seized, and brought into this Port, by the Dolphin Custom-House-Cutter, Capt. John Miller, an American Sloop, belonging to New-York, laden with Sugar, Rum, and Tobacco, at Santa Cruz, for Amsterdam.

Edinburgh, July 9. Yesterday there was a general Meeting of the Proprietors of the Bank of Douglas, Heron and Co. It appeared from the State of their Funds, laid before the Meeting, that the whole capital Stock paid in (400l. upon each Share) was lost, and that there was still a Deficiency of 70,000l. It was proposed as the most advantageous Way of extricating the Company, to raise that Sum (which amounts to 300l. upon each 500l. Share) by three equal Payments at Martinmas next, Whitsunday, and Martinmas, 1777. This Proposal was agreed to by almost all the Gentlemen present.

July 10. It has been recommended to the Convention of Burghs now met, to apply to Parliament, (if the Funds of the Trustees are not sufficient) for their Assistance to promote the Fisheries on the West Coast and Isles of Scotland, which have hitherto been shamefully neglected, and, if properly encouraged, might prove a great Source of Wealth, as well as an immense Nursery for Seamen.

L O N D O N,

July 16. The Public Advertiser of July 14th contains a short Letter, addressed to the Printer, which says, "The Account in your Paper of the Lynx Sloop of War being taken by the Rebels, and carried into Philadelphia, is an impudent Falshood, manifestly designed for the Purpose of imposing upon the Public. She arrived two Months since from Antigua, with Dispatches from Admiral Young, and has been paid off above three Weeks."

A Letter from Madrid, dated June 30, says, "It is now no longer a Secret that the Spanish Squadron, commanded by Admiral Gafton, is to act against the Moors; he is to be joined by a French Squadron; they are to act in Conjunction, with a View of giving the Infidels a fatal Blow."

A Letter from Jamaica mentions, that the following American Vessels under Spanish Colours, have been taken by two of his Majesty's Frigates with in a few Leagues of the Havannah, and carried into Port Royal, viz. the Edyard, the Mary and Ann Brigantine, and the Flower of the Sea, a Snow, all laden with warlike Stores.

His Majesty's Ship Maidstone, Capt. Gardner, has taken an American Sloop with Flour, and carried her into Kingston, Jamaica.

A Letter from Jamaica, brought by the Dawkins, Capt. Hall, from that Island, mentions, that on the Day of their sailing from thence, three American Vessels, which had been taken by his Majesty's Cruisers, were brought into that Port, and that every Thing was in a perfect State of Tranquillity on the Island.

The —, Capt. Marsham, from Jamaica to Bristol, is taken by the Provincials, and carried into Philadelphia.

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, June 26.

"The following Account does too much Honour to Mankind not to be made publick.

"One of the unfortunate Sufferers at the Fire of Warasdin, having lost all his Merchandise and Papers, and having in vain solicited his Family and pretended Friends to assist him in re-establishing his Business, resolved to go to a Correspondent at Agram, and beg of him to employ him in his Manufactory, but he was prevented by meeting him at a small Distance from the burning Town; they embraced each other, and his Friend said to him, "I have brought you a Receipt for what you owe me. There, take these 6000 Florins in Gold, take them I insist upon it, and dispose of my Magazine. You are an honest Man, that is Security sufficient for me, and I will take no other."

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, July 17.

"The Hector Man of War, of 74 Guns, is put into Commission at this Port as a Guard-ship, and Sir John Hamilton appointed to the Command.

"The Courageux Man of War, of 74 Guns, is ordered to be docked and fitted as a Guard-ship, at this Port. in the room, as it is said, of the Marlborough."

Sir Thomas Rich, in his Majesty's Ship the Enterprize, met with a French Fleet, of two Ships of the Line, and several Frigates, commanded by the Duke of Chartres. The French bore down upon her, and the Admiral hailed the Enterprize, and ordered the Captain to come on board immediately; to which he replied, that if the Admiral had any Thing to communicate to him, he might come on board the Enterprize, as he should not go out of his Ship. The Duke insisted that he should, or he would sink him; and the French Ships accordingly pointed their Guns at the Enterprize; but Sir Thomas Rich, regardless of their hostile Threats and Preparations, declared that he never received any Orders but from his own Admiral, and that they were at Liberty to fire whenever they pleased, as he positively would not go on board; upon which the Duke of Chartres admired his spirited Conduct, and begged it as a Favour that he would do him the Honour of coming on board, as he wished much to be better acquainted with him; Sir Thomas Rich immediately went, and was received with the utmost Respect by all the Officers.

board the Centaur Man of War, and this Harbour, on the Captain, Officers, &c. of the Marlborough, to enquire into the Cause of the late unhappy Accident which befel that Ship, and the Persons who lost their Lives on that Occasion; when the Captain and Lieutenants were cleared of any Breach of Duty, but the Gunner was sentenced to one Year's Imprisonment in the Marshalsea, and rendered for ever incapable of serving his Majesty; one of the Gunner's Yeomen was condemned to receive 300 Lashes.

"Yesterday another Court-Martial was held on two Sailors for Theft committed on board the said Ship in the Height of the Confusion after she was blown up; when they were both convicted, and sentenced to receive 300 Lashes; which Sentences, both on them and the Gunner's Yeoman, were this Morning carried into Execution."

The Duchesse Dowager of Newcastle, who died lately at Twickenham-Park, was the Daughter of the Earl of Godolphin, and Grand-daughter of John the great Duke of Marlborough.

July 20. The Recorder of London in passing Sentence on such Convicts as were condemned to work for three Years in some Service useful to the Navigation of the River Thames, told them that the Punishment, though very severe, nevertheless gave them an Opportunity to mitigate its Heaviness; because if they manifested Signs of real Contrition, and appeared truly desirous of becoming useful Members in Society, their Conduct would be reported to the Government by proper Officers, and the Term of their Servitude abridged. Whereas, on the contrary, if they were incorrigible, they would be worked without Remission to the utmost of their Ability; the Term of their Servitude would be doubled upon the first Attempt to escape, and upon the second they would be liable to suffer Death without Benefit of Clergy.

Capt. Squire, of the Otter Ship in America, is appointed Post-Captain, and is to have the Camilla of 20 Guns; Lieut. Clayton, who now commands her, is to have the Otter.

All the Convicts in Newgate are much dissatisfied at their Sentence to be obliged to work; they say they would rather be transported by much, for if they had liked working they should have had no Occasion to turn Robbers.

July 23. Letters from Senegal mention, that the Crew of a French Ship in these Seas had mutinied against their Officers and turned Pirates, but landing fifteen of their Men afterwards on the Gold Coast, they were all cut off by the Natives; and the Vessel was recovered by an English Frigate.

On Saturday the Beaver, Capt. Coffin, arrived at her Mooring in the River from Falkland Isles with nine F. Sh. Those Vessels which went to the Falklands have had much better Success than those that went to Greenland.

August 26. The army in Canada has been divided into two parties, one under General Carleton, which is to proceed by the Lakes Champlain and George to Albany; other under General Burgoyne, up the river St. Lawrence, crossing the Lake Ontario, to Oswego, (the position of which fort is thought necessary) and so to meet General Carleton at Albany, from whence they are to march to the Southward towards New-York, in order to assist the operations of General Howe.

August 29. A correspondent informs us, that a new paper has been set up at Paris, called, Le Journal de Paris. It is to relate simply the daily occurrences of that city, but not to admit a single hint or innuendo respecting the Ministry. He has sent a few articles, amongst which are the following, dated Aug. 3.

"Yesterday her Majesty, accompanied by her Ladies of Honour, and the Count d'Artois, hunted the stag in the Bois de Boulogne, when, as usual, she was universally admired for her beauty, her elegance, and her affability. This was the first time the Ladies appeared with a feather on each shoulder, in imitation of the wings of Angels.

"M. Le Noir, that vigilant magistrate, who is again restored to his former office, commenced the first act of his restoration by an edict to forbid old keys to be sold unless accompanied with their locks; (a hint to Sir John Fielding, to prevent housebreaking.)"

Our readers (we are assured by a correspondent) may depend on the following fact:—A publican in St. Martin's lane had a cat kitted about three weeks since, and among her young ones was one male kitten of a fine tortoiseshell colour. The publican was about to drown this with the rest, but a neighbour seeing it, offered five guineas for it; the man finding, from the sum offered, that the kitten was valuable, refused to sell it, although he declared, "had his neighbour bid him only six-pence for it, he should have had it." Since that time two gentlemen, who heard of the kitten, have called in their carriages, and the last really offered good for the animal, which the publican positively refused, setting a much higher price on pufs.—As the publican is no Croesus, we fear he has outlived his market.

As we daily read of many rich vessels taken by the American privateers, it may not be disagreeable to acquaint the friends of Old England with two essential circumstances; first, that some of the rich vessels taken from us by the rebels have no existence whatever, but in the newspapers; and secondly, that the principal part of the rest go out with the professed view of falling into the hands of the enemy. To elucidate this point, we must observe that the Rebels are in great distress for numberless articles which they cannot procure openly from England, as all commerce with them is prohibited by Parliament, and punishable as high as such of the British ports as are most conveniently situated, to fit out large ships with the commodities particularly wanted. This is accordingly done, and the vessels sail to a given latitude under the plausible pretext of bearing to some well-affected part of America. When they arrive at the given latitude, however, provincial privateers are in readiness to seize them, and they strike without a blow, well knowing that their owners are to be amply indemnified for the utmost loss which they may seemingly sustain, in this imaginary capture.

It is confidently said that the owners of a rich ship lately taken by the Provincials near the Gulf of Florida, have discovered that the matter perfidiously betrayed her into the hands of the enemy, and are taking proper steps to procure satisfaction for the injury they have sustained. The matters of most of the vessels from Jamaica which were lately taken by the American privateers, without firing a gun, have since their arrival in London applied to the owners for appointments as commanders of other ships; but all of them have been refused except two, whose conduct was impeachable, from their not being in a situation to defend themselves.

A letter from Capt. Morgan, of the Unity transport, arrived at Halifax, says, "Our passage was very well till we got clear of the Bay, when we met with a heavy gale of wind that separated the fleet, and when the gale abated, we found ourselves a single ship, and did not meet with any one of them till we arrived at this place. Off the Isle of Sable, early in the morning, we saw a schooner which seemed inclined to speak with us; about noon she was only half a mile from us, when she fired a shot to bring us too; she had hoisted no colours, notwithstanding she fired a shot; we were surprised at this, and could therefore hardly think she was one of our armed few-ers, as the officer would certainly know his duty better: we accordingly brought too, but took care also to get all the soldiers up, and in arms, and had them all ready under the quarter deck and out of sight; she ran under our stern, and bad us strike to the Congress, on which having four guns abaft, (all we had on board) we complimented her with a couple: she then kept on our bow, and seemed inclined to board us; our soldiers immediately went forward, and gave them such a discharge of small arms, that she found she had caught a tarar. I believe we killed them five men at this fire. She then shot a head of us, in order, I believe, to consider what to do: the determination was to leave us, which they did, by steering away south, whilst we kept on for Halifax harbour, not having suffered the least hurt. The schooner had ten guns, and I believe upwards of fifty hands. She certainly thought we were a victualer or an ordnance vessel, or she never could have been so mad as to have attacked us, for if we had been taken, what would they have done with us all? for with the soldiers and ship's company we wanted but a few of two hundred men. To-morrow, according to orders received, I shall sail under convoy to join Gen. Howe, at Staten Island."

Extract of a Letter from Jamaica, dated June 29. "A pamphlet has been circulated here under the title of 'Common Sense,' which was sent hither from America. It is written with great violence against the English Administration; and its design is to stir up the Colonists to assert their independency on the Mother Country. There are many false assertions in it, one of which Admiral Gayton has thought proper to contradict, in the Jamaica Gazette, in the following words:

"I HAVE seen a pamphlet published in Philadelphia, under the title of Common Sense, wherein the author says, that 40 years ago there were 70 and 80 guns ships built in New-England: in answer to which I do declare, that at that very period of time I was in New-England, a midshipman on board his Majesty's ship Squirrel, with the late Sir Peter Warren, and then there never had been a man of war built of any kind. In 1747 (after the reduction of Louisburgh) there was a ship of 44 guns ordered to be built at Piquetqua by one Mr. McIlverey; she was called the America, and sailed for England the following year; when she came home she was found so bad that she never was commissioned again. There was afterwards another ship of 20 guns built at Boston, by Mr. Benjamin Holiwell, which was called the Boston; she ran but a short time before she was condemned; and those were the only two ships of war ever built in America; therefore I thought it my duty to publish this, to undeceive the public in general, to shew that what the author has set forth is an absolute falsity.

CLARK GAYTON."

Extract of a letter from Amsterdam, August 21. "Believe me, when I tell you, that the North Americans abound at this place, and not a ship that arrives from the Dutch islands but brings here several of those gentry. Mr. F., who goes from hence to England by the packet which brings you this, can inform you further of their proceedings, which indeed they make no secret of. It would not be amiss, I should imagine, to visit some of their outward-bound vessels, where I am certain great quantities of North-American property is shipped. Tobacco has fallen in price here since the rupture with America, and a great deal has been imported from the Dutch islands, however it got there."

Extract of a letter from Portsmouth, Aug. 17. "Last night the Richmond's long-boat, with shot and water, by some accident filled, and sunk immediately, whereby the boatwain, gunner, mate, cockswain, and a young lad, a midshipman, and nephew to Capt. Gideon, commander of the above ship, with four sailors, their lives by swimming."

ON DANCING.

ONE of the wisest and greatest Men that England ever produced was inclined to introduce Dancing as an important Article into the Academic System of Education. I mean Lord Clarendon, who was as sensible of its Advantages, as Monf. Fulleit himself.

It is, however, universally allowed, that there are Periods of Life which should naturally renounce the Pleasures of the Dance. What a ridiculous Extravagance would it appear in a grey-haired Alderman, should he describe a Minuet, or supply in a Coition the Place of a polished active Youth! The numberless Distortions, which are sometimes forced into a wrinkled Face by the Louvre, seldom raise any Degree of Satisfaction in the Spectator, oftener Compassion, always an Inclination to Laughter. The Amusement of Dancing, as the Dalliance of Love, is equally denied the Gravity of advanced Years. A Love Song is as much expected as a jig, from a Man of eighty. Infirmary sets each Performance in a ridiculous Light. Who could endure Spectacles at a Dance, especially if Blindness proceeds from Age, when to trace the Figure of the Dance requires the same irksome Pains and poring Distress with the small Character of a Persian Manuscript?

The Quality too of the Dancer is of prime Importance. From a Want of due Attention to this, many hideous Misalliances are often fashioned, Dignity becomes frolicsome, and Office is disfigured by an unsuitable Gaiety. Let us, therefore, suppose an Instance, where the Station of the Dancer is strongly contrasted with the Amusement itself. Where a Lord Chief Justice, with the most finished Graces of Person, to measure a Coition at Madam Cornelys's, who would not feel for the Dancer? Who could separate the Idea of Magistracy from his present Situation? Let us now drop Supposition, and give an Example of this strange Contrast from an Order of Men, whose Duties are the most abhorrent from the Pleasures of a Dance.

Ned Toupee is now turned of thirty; he had ever been admired for his Walk in a Minuet; indeed he shone in every Branch of the Art Saturnal. The Appanle which he gained so rooted his Affection for Dancing, that he pursued this favourite Amusement as warmly after Ordination as before. He is now fixt as Curate in a genteel Country Parish: No private Hop is without him, who, like the Salii at Rome, unites the Honours of Worship with the Merriment of the "fantastic To." He attends each monthly Assembly in the next Market Town. I have known Ned, when he has just buried a Corpse, "in a Moment, in the Twinkling of an Eye," post to a Ball, where he has been hotly engaged in "merrily dance the Quaker," while his Clothes still retained the Odours of a Burial. His precepts have but little Effect on his Parishioners, who necessarily jumble together the Notions of the Priest and the Dancer.

London, July 12, 1776.

A numerous Meeting of Gentlemen, Merchants, and others, held at the London Tavern, the 18th of October last, a Subscription was opened, which the King was graciously pleased to approve, for such occasional Acts of Benevolence as might be useful to the Soldiers who then were, or might afterwards be employed in his Majesty's Service in America, and for succouring the Widows and Orphans of those brave Men who had fallen, or might fall in defending the Constitutional Government of this Country.

The Committee appointed to conduct the above laudable Plan, have explained to the Public, in their Letter of the 17th of April last, their Proceeding in the Prosecution of it; they have now the Satisfaction to inform them of the late Arrival at Halifax of the Ship Remond with her Cargo.

The strong Testimonies of Approbation with which these generous Donations of the Public have been received, and the great Care and Attention shewn towards the equitable Distribution of them, will appear by the following Letters received by the Committee.

S I R, Quebec, May 14, 1776. I received your's of the 25th of February, and am to acknowledge the Receipt of Five Hundred Pounds in Silver, given by the Society, of which you are Treasurer, for the Relief of his Majesty's Army, &c. in America: Upon the Part of those Donors my hearty Thanks, and Assurances that their charitable Benevolence shall be distributed in the Manner which appears to me most agreeable to their truly patriotic Intentions. I am, Sir, your most obedient humble Servant, Samuel Smith, Esq. GUY CARLTON.

S I R, Halifax, May 18, 1776. I am favoured with your Letter of the 1st of February last, informing me of 2178 Dollars being shipped on board the Triton, by the Committee for the Relief of the Soldiers, their Widows and Orphans, serving in America; and also of 2000 Ounces more Silver, being shipped on Board the Greyhound Man of War, for the benevolent Purposes above-mentioned; the last of which is this Day received.

I must beg of you to assure the Committee that my best Endeavours shall be exerted to distribute these, and all other Donations from the Society, in such a Manner as may best tend to relieve the Distresses of the Soldiers, and fulfil the good Intentions of the Subscribers in their Behalf.

I am, with true Esteem, Sir, Your obedient humble Servant, Samuel Smith, Esq; Treasurer to W. HOWE. of the Committee for the Relief of the Soldiers, their Widows and Orphans, &c.

GENTLEMEN, Halifax, May 18, 1776. I have been favoured with your Letter of the 16th of February, and its several Inclosures, wherein I observe with Pleasure the Benevolence of the Nation to the Soldiers on this Service. Give me Leave to assure you, that the strictest Attention will be fixed to your particular Recommendations in distributing the Bounty, and that the Money, small Mounting, &c. when received, will be bestowed in such a Manner, as may best answer the generous Intentions of the Subscribers, and prove most conducive to relieve the Distresses of those for whose Benefit it is designed: To this end I have appointed a Board of General Officers, to receive all Applications, to judge of their Propriety, and to render an exact Account to the Society of their Transactions from Time to Time.

The Troops cannot fail of receiving this Mark of kind Attention in their Countrymen with the grateful Respect for its merits; and that they may know who their generous Friends are, I have ordered the List of Subscribers transmitted to be re-printed here, for the Information of the several Regiments on this Service.

I have the Honour to be, with great Respect, Gentlemen, Your most obedient Servant, To the Treasurer and Gentlemen of the Committee for the Relief of the Soldiers, their Widows, and Orphans, &c. W. HOWE.

Halifax, Nova Scotia. June 9, 1776.

GENTLEMEN, His Excellency, General Howe, having been pleased to appoint a Board of General Officers, to receive all Applications, for the Use of his Majesty's Troops under his Command, to judge of the Propriety of such Applications, and to render an exact account of their transactions from Time to Time to the Society for the Relief of the Soldiers, their Widows and Orphans, &c.

In Obedience to His Excellency's Orders, we here enclose an exact Copy of all our Proceedings: We are happy to acquaint you, that the several Articles sent by the Remond, have proved remarkably good, of their Kind.

This Board, as well as the Officers and Soldiers in general, are sensible of the great Attention which their Countrymen have shewn them on this Occasion, and we flatter ourselves, that the future operations of the Army in reducing the deluded Inhabitants of this Country to a just sense of their Duty, will merit their Approbation. The Society may be assured, that the Board will exert themselves to render their benevolent Designs as beneficial as possible. As we are convinced that you are desirous of contributing to the utmost of your Power, towards the Relief of the Soldiers, &c. we beg Leave to suggest to you, that the following Articles will be particularly useful; (to wit) Soap, Leather for mending Shoes, Combs, Chalk or Whiting for cleaning Cloaths, Leggings, Horse Reddish, Ground Ginger, Awls, Wax, and Cobblers Ends for Shoemakers.

We also beg Leave to recommend to your Notice, Lieutenant Robertson, who conducted the Ship to this Port; his Behaviour, in every particular, has merited the Approbation of this Board.

As the present Situation of Affairs has obliged him to return immediately to England, he has been under a necessity of providing himself with a Passage at his own Expence.

We are, Gentlemen, Your most obedient servants, PERCY, Lieut. Gen. ROB. PIGOT, Maj. Gen. VAL. JONES, Maj. Gen. JAMES GRANT, Maj. Gen. F. SMITH, Br. Gen. ALEX. LESLIE, Br. Gen. SAM. CLEVELAND, Br. Gen.

To the Treasurer and Gentlemen of Committee for the Relief of the Soldiers, their Widows and Orphans serving in America.

GENTLEMEN, I esteem myself bound by Duty to acknowledge the Attention and assiduous Services of Lieutenant George Robertson, of the Navy, in the Discharge of the Trust which you were pleased to commit to him, on Board the Remond, Captain Keen. He has delivered her up to my perfect Satisfaction, and I flatter myself that his whole Conduct on this Occasion will also merit your Approbation.

I have the Honour to be, Gentlemen, Your most obedient and most humble Servant, The Treasurer and Gentlemen of W. HOWE. of the Committee for the Relief of the Soldiers, their Widows and Orphans, &c. &c. &c.

From the CONNECTICUT GAZETTE, and UNIVERSAL INTELLIGENCER, of OS. 25. HARTFORD, October 22.

Extract of a Letter from a Rebel Officer to his Correspondent, dated Albany, Oct. 17.

"You doubtless have heard of our Engagement between our Fleet on the Lake, and the Enemy, on the 11th instant. Our advice left them the 12th, our fleet then at anchor near Schuyler's Island, in a shattered and leaky condition; the enemy just appearing in sight, with a light southerly breeze. Events since have been very unfavourable: Our fleet made but very little tarry at anchor, only to stop their leaks, &c. and proceeded with all the dispatch their condition would admit of, towards Crown-Point. A favourable northerly gale assisted the enemy to run up with the fleet, when a second engagement commenced, which lasted five glances, most of the time in musket shot, very warm and sharp, in which our men conducted with inimitable spirit and bravery, but were obliged to submit to superior strength. In this affair our fleet is almost totally ruined; only one galley escaped, with sloop Enterprize, and two small schooners, and one gondola—the rest all taken, burnt and destroyed. General Arnold sought as long as possible in the galley Congress, when he was obliged to run her ashore, burn her, and escape by land to Ticonderoga, having lost 20 of his men. General Waterbury, in the Washington galley, fought till he was so shattered, that the galley was sinking under him, and was obliged to strike; this is the only vessel that the enemy possessed themselves of. Col. Wiggleworth, in the Trumbull galley, is arrived at Ticonderoga.

"In both engagements we have lost a large schooner, three galleys burnt and taken, eight gondaloes burnt also;—have remaining 1 sloop, 12 guns; 6 schooners, 8 guns each; 2 galleys, 2 gondalo. The enemy's fleet is amazing, one ship, 18 twelve pounders; one schooner, 14 six pounders; one ditto, 12 ditto; one large red deaux of 6 twenty-four pounders, 12 twelve pounders, 4 eight inch howitzers, all brass; 28 gondaloes, 1 gun each, 12, 18, and 24 pounders, 1 eight inch howitzer. Our people are all retired to Ticonderoga, where they may very soon expect an attack."

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, July 17.

"On Monday a Court-Martial was held on board the Centaur Man of War in this Harbour, on the Captain, Officers, &c. of the Marlborough, to enquire into the Cause of the late unhappy Accident which befel that Ship, and the Persons who lost their Lives on that Occasion; when the Captain and Lieutenants were cleared of any Breach of Duty, but the Gunner was sentenced to one Year's Imprisonment in the Marshalsea, and rendered for ever incapable of serving his Majesty; one of the Gunner's Yeomen was condemned to receive 300 Lashes.

"Yesterday another Court-Martial was held on two Sailors for Theft committed on board the said Ship in the Height of the Confusion after the was blown up; when they were both convicted, and sentenced to receive 300 Lashes; which Sentences, both on them and the Gunner's Yeoman, were this Morning carried into Execution."

The Duchefs Dowager of Newcastle, who died lately at Twickenham-Park, was the Daughter of the Earl of Godolphin, and Grand-daughter of John the great Duke of Marlborough.

July 20. The Recorder of London in passing Sentence on such Convicts as were condemned to work for three Years in some Service useful to the Navigation of the River Thames, told them that the Punishment, though very severe, nevertheless gave them an Opportunity to mitigate its Heaviness; because if they manifested Signs of real Contrition, and appeared truly desirous of becoming useful Members in Society, their Conduct would be reported to the Government by proper Officers, and the Term of their Servitude abridged. Whereas, on the contrary, if they were incorrigible, they would be worked without Remission to the utmost of their Ability; the Term of their Servitude would be doubled upon the first Attempt to escape, and upon the second they would be liable to suffer Death without Benefit of Clergy.

Capt. Squire, of the Otter Sloop in America, is appointed Post-Captain, and is to have the Camilla of 20 Guns; Lieut. Clayton, who now commands her, is to have the Otter.

All the Convicts in Newgate are much dissatisfied at their Sentence to be obliged to work; they say they would rather be transported by much, for if they had liked working they should have had no Occasion to turn Robbers.

July 23. Letters from Senegal mention, that the Crew of a French Ship in those Seas had mutinied against their Officers and turned Pirates, but landing fifteen of their Men afterwards on the Gold Coast, they were all cut off by the Natives; and the Vessel was recovered by an English Frigate.

On Saturday the Beaver, Capt. Coffin, arrived at her Moorings in the River from Falkland Isles with nine F.H. Those Vessels which went to the Falklands have had much better Success than those that went to Greenland.

August 26. The army in Canada has been divided into two parties, one under General Carleton, which is to proceed by the Lakes Champlain and George to Albany; other under General Burgoyne, up the river St. Lawrence, crossing the Lake Ontario, to Oswego, (the possession of which fort is thought necessary) and so to meet General Carleton at Albany, from whence they are to march to the Southward towards New-York, in order to assist the operations of General Howe.

August 29. A correspondent informs us, that a new paper has been set up at Paris, called, Le Journal de Paris. It is to relate simply the daily occurrences of that city, but not to admit a single hint or innuendo respecting the Ministry. He has sent a few articles, amongst which are the following, dated Aug. 8.

"Yesterday her Majesty, accompanied by her Ladies of Honour, and the Count d'Artois, hunted the stag in the Bois de Boulogne, when, as usual, she was universally admired for her beauty, her elegance, and her affability. This was the first time the Ladies appeared with a feather on each shoulder, in imitation of the wings of Angels.

"M. Le Noir, that vigilant magistrate, who is again restored to his former office, commenced the first act of his restoration by an edict to forbid old keys to be sold unless accompanied with their locks; (a hint to Sir John Fielding, to prevent housebreaking.)"

Our readers (we are assured by a correspondent) may depend on the following fact:—A publican in St. Martin's lane had a cat kitted about three weeks since, and among her young ones was one male kitten of a fine tortoiseshell colour. The publican was about to drown this with the rest, but a neighbour seeing it, offered five guineas for it; the man finding, from the sum offered, that the kitten was valuable, refused to sell it, although he declared, "had his neighbour bid him only six-pence for it, he should have had it." Since that time two gentlemen, who heard of the kitten, have called in their carriages and the last really offered good for the animal, which the publican positively refused, setting a much higher price on it. As the publican is no longer to be seen, we are left to conjecture the fate of the kitten.

treason. Under these circumstances, therefore, directions are privately issued to their adherents in such of the British ports as are most conveniently situated, to fit out large ships with the commodities particularly wanted. This is accordingly done, and the vessels sail to a given latitude under the plausible pretext of bearing to some well-affected part of America. When they arrive at the given latitude, however, provincial privateers are in readiness to seize them, and they strike without a blow, well knowing that their owners are to be amply indemnified for the utmost loss which they may seemingly sustain, in this imaginary capture.

It is confidently said that the owners of a rich ship lately taken by the Provincials near the Gulf of Florida, have discovered that the master perfidiously betrayed her into the hands of the enemy, and are taking proper steps to procure satisfaction for the injury they have sustained. The matters of most of the vessels from Jamaica which were lately taken by the American privateers, without firing a gun, have since their arrival in London applied to the owners for appointments as commanders of other ships; but all of them have been refused except two, whose conduct was impeachable, from their not being in a situation to defend themselves.

A letter from Capt. Morgan, of the Unity transport, arrived at Halifax, says, "Our passage was very well till we got clear of the Bay, when we met with a heavy gale of wind that separated the fleet, and when the gale abated, we found ourselves a single ship, and did not meet with any one of them till we arrived at this place. Off the Isle of Sable, early in the morning, we saw a schooner which seemed inclined to speak with us; about noon she was only half a mile from us, when she fired a shot to bring us too; she had hoisted no colours, notwithstanding she fired a shot; we were surprised at this, and could therefore hardly think she was one of our armed vessels, as the officer would certainly know his duty better: we accordingly brought too, but took care also to get all the soldiers up, and in arms, and had them all ready under the quarter deck and out of sight: she ran under our stern, and bad us strike to the Congress, on which having four guns abaft, (all we had on board) we complimented her with a couple: she then kept on our bow, and seemed inclined to board us; our soldiers immediately went forward, and gave them such a discharge of small arms, that she found she had caught a tarar. I believe we killed them five men at this fire. She then shot a head of us, in order, I believe, to consider what to do: the determination was to leave us, which they did, by steering away south, whilst we kept on for Halifax harbour, not having suffered the least hurt. The schooner had ten guns, and I believe upwards of fifty hands. She certainly thought we were a victualer or an ordnance vessel, or the never could have been so mad as to have attacked us, for if we had been taken, what would they have done with us all? for with the soldiers and ship's company we wanted but a few of two hundred men. To-morrow, according to orders received, I shall sail under convoy to join Gen. Howe, at Staten Island."

Extract of a Letter from Jamaica, dated June 29.
"A pamphlet has been circulated here under the title of 'Common Sense,' which was sent hither from America. It is written with great virulence against the English Administration; and its design is to stir up the Colonists to assert their independency on the Mother Country. There are many false assertions in it, one of which Admiral Gayton has thought proper to contradict, in the Jamaica Gazette, in the following words:

"I HAVE seen a pamphlet published in Philadelphia, and the title of Common Sense, wherein the author says, that 40 years ago there were 70 and 80 guns ships built in New-England: in answer to which I do declare, that at that very period of time I was in New-England, a midshipman on board his Majesty's ship Squirrel, with the late Sir Peter Warren, and then then there never had been a man of war built of any kind. In 1747 (after the reduction of Louisburgh) there was a ship of 44 guns ordered to be built at Piscataqua by one Mr. Messervy; she was called the America, and sailed for England the following year; when she came home she was found so bad that she never was commissioned again. There was afterwards another ship of 20 guns built at Boston, by Mr. Benjamin Howell, which was called the Boston; she ran but a short time before she was condemned; and those were the only two ships of war ever built in America: therefore I thought it my duty to publish this, to undeceive the public in general, to shew that what the author has set forth is an absolute falsity.

CLARK GAYTON."

Extract of a letter from Amsterdam, August 21.

"Believe me, when I tell you, that the North Americans abound at this place, and not a ship that arrives from the Dutch islands but brings here several of those gentry. Mr. F., who goes from hence to England by the packet which brings the mail, has been informed that were drowned; the carpenter and a boy saved their lives by swimming."

ON DANCING.

ONE of the wisest and greatest Men that England ever produced was inclined to introduce Dancing as an important Article into the Academic System of Education. I mean Lord Clarendon, who was as sensible of its Advantages, as Monf. Puffet himself.

It is, however, universally allowed, that there are Periods of Life which should naturally renounce the Pleasures of the Dance. What a ridiculous Extravagance would it appear in a grey-haired Alderman, should he describe a Minuet, or supply in a Cotillon the Place of a polished active Youth! The numberless Disturbances, which are sometimes forced into a wrinkled Face by the Louvre, seldom raise any Degree of Satisfaction in the Spectator, oftener Compassion, always an Inclination to Laughter. The Amusement of Dancing, as the Dalliance of Love, is equally denied the Gravity of advanced Years. A Love Song is as much expected as a Jig, from a Man of eighty. Infirmary sets each Performance in a ridiculous Light. Who could endure Spectacles at a Dance, especially if Blindness proceeds from Age, when to trace the Figure of the Dance requires the same irksome Pains and poring Distress with the small Character of a Persian Manuscript?

The Quality too of the Dancer is of prime Importance. From a Want of due Attention to this, many hideous Misalliances are often fashioned, Dignity become frolicsome, and Office is disfigured by an unsuitable Gaiety. Let us, therefore, suppose an Instance, where the Station of the Dancer is strongly contrasted with the Amusement itself. Where a Lord Chief Justice, with the most finished Graces of Person, to measure a Cotillon at Madam Cornelys's, who would not feel for the Dancer? Who could separate the Idea of Magistracy from his present Situation? Let us now drop Supposition, and give an Example of this strange Contrast from an Order of Men, whose Duties are the most abhorrent from the Pleasures of a Dance.

Ned Toupee is now turned of thirty; he had ever been admired for his Walk in a Minuet; indeed he shines in every Branch of the Art Saturnal. The Applause which he gained so rooted his Affection for Dancing, that he pursued this favourite Amusement as warmly after Ordination as before. He is now fixt as Curate in a genteel Country Parish: No private Hop is without him, who, like the Sali at Rome, unites the Holiness of Worship with the Merriment of the "fantastic To." He attends each monthly Assembly in the next Market Town. I have known Ned, when he has just buried a Corpse, "in a Moment, in the Twinkling of an Eye," post to a Ball, where he has been hotly engaged in "merrily dance the Quaker," while his Clothes still retained the Odours of a Burial. His Precepts have but little Effect on his Parishioners, who necessarily jumble together the Notions of the Priest and the Dancer.

Extract of a letter from Portsmouth, August 28.
“On Monday evening a melancholy accident happened to the long-boat belonging to the Richmond frigate, now at Spithead: The gunner, boatwain, three midshipmen, and carpenter, with several seamen, had been to the dock, and loaded the boat with stores for the use of the ship. On their return to the ship, opposite the hospital, a little way out of the harbour, the boat sunk, and the following persons were drowned, viz. the gunner, boatwain, three midshipmen, and three seamen. The carpenter saved himself by swimming. This accident happened, it is supposed, by overloading the boat. The eight dead bodies now lie on the shore.”

Salisbury, July 22. Several respectable Persons who have fled from the American Rebels, and brought with them such of their Effects as they could save, being lately arrived here, and having petitioned that such of the said Effects, as were not by Law prohibited, might be delivered to them Duty free; we hear that Government, in Compliance with the said Petition, has given Orders that such Goods should be delivered.

ANECDOTE of LORD FH.

IT is customary for Lord FALMOUTH to walk in the Park before dinner in rather a mean dress, which occasioned a circumstance lately to happen that redounds much to the honour of his Lordship. He staid the other day in the Mall rather longer than usual, that is, 'till after four o'clock, and was sitting upon one of the benches with another person, who made about as genteel an appearance, in point of dress, as his Lordship; they sat together some time without speaking, at length the stranger addressed him nearly in the following words: “Sir, I suppose you and I are here upon the same errand?” “It may be so, (answered his Lordship) but I am quite ignorant of your's.” “Why, Sir, (replied the stranger) I came to look for a dinner.” “That is not my case, (said his Lordship) I have a pretty good dinner at home; and if you are situated as you say, you are welcome to partake of it.” After some few apologies the invitation was accepted by the stranger, and his Lordship, with his new acquaintance, immediately left the Park. As soon as his Lordship arrived at his house in St. James's square, he knocked pretty loudly at the door, when his guest enquired of him, “Is the family at home?” His Lordship told him they were, and desired him to walk in, which he did; and as soon as he had an opportunity he asked the servant who let them in, whether the person he came with was the Butler? On the servant informing him that it was his Lordship, he appeared much confused, and was for withdrawing; but his Lordship, seeing his confusion, desired him to make no apology, but walk into the room; which he did, and dined with his Lordship; who, on his leaving the house after dinner, made him a present of ten pounds.

NEW-YORK, November 11.

We hear that a Party of Rebels under a Mr. Floyd, late a Member of the Congress, came over a few Days since from Connecticut, to the East End of Long Island, and committed several Murders and Depredations; but, 'tis hoped, a good account will soon be given of these lawless Freebooters.

A Gentleman lately arrived from Philadelphia, says that it was the prevailing Opinion there, that a French Fleet of great Force would arrive at New York before Christmas, which would enable the Provincials not only to recover that City and the adjacent Parts, but destroy the British Ships at present in the Harbour, and of Course reduce the British Army to the last Extremity.—Such are the Absurdities and Falsenesses, with which the Leaders of the present Rebellion endeavour to keep up the Spirits and Opposition of their deluded Followers!

The Rebels continue retreating to the Northwards, with the King's Troops close at their heels: It is, therefore, daily expected, that some important Stroke will be given, either to defeat, or effectually disperse them.

A Detachment of the Rebels still continue at Fort Washington, which is constructed with Masonry, &c. and, 'tis said, cost near 30,000l. They have given out, that they will defend it to the last Extremity.

Captain Davis of the Repulse being taken dangerously ill, the Emerald, Captain Caldwell, took his Station near the Rebel Forts up Hudson's River.

Several Rebel Privateers, &c. have been lately taken and brought into this Harbour, by some of His Majesty's Ships.

A large Fleet of Transports, under Convoy of some Men of War, are preparing to sail Homewards.

Captain Evelyn, of the Light Infantry, who was wounded in a late skirmish with the Rebels, died on Wednesday last.—He was a brave and worthy Officer, and his Death is much regretted.

We hear, that his Excellency Governor Tryon, has mustered the Militia of Westchester County, and that above 1,500 have already joined him, and taken the Oaths of Allegiance to His Majesty.

His Excellency came to Town last Friday Night.

On Wednesday Evening last the Lively Frigate, loading the shore. Several respectable Persons who have fled from the American Rebels, and brought with them such of their Effects as they could save, being lately arrived here, and having petitioned that such of the said Effects, as were not by Law prohibited, might be delivered to them Duty free; we hear that Government, in Compliance with the said Petition, has given Orders that such Goods should be delivered.

ANECDOTE of Lord FH.

It is customary for Lord FALMOUTH to walk in the Park before dinner in rather a mean dress, which occasioned a circumstance lately to happen that redounds much to the honour of his Lordship. He staid the other day in the Mall rather longer than usual, that is, 'till after four o'clock, and was sitting upon one of the benches with another person, who made about as genteel an appearance, in point of dress, as his Lordship; they sat together some time without speaking, at length the stranger addressed him nearly in the following words: "Sir, I suppose you and I are here upon the same errand?" "It may be so, (answered his Lordship) but I am quite ignorant of your's." "Why, Sir, (replied the stranger) I came to look for a dinner." "That is not my case, (said his Lordship) I have a pretty good dinner at home; and if you are situated as you say, you are welcome to partake of it." After some few apologies the invitation was accepted by the stranger, and his Lordship, with his new acquaintance, immediately left the Park. As soon as his Lordship arrived at his house in St. James's Square, he knocked pretty loudly at the door, when his guest enquired of him, "Is the family at home?" His Lordship told him they were, and desired him to walk in, which he did; and as soon as he had an opportunity he asked the servant who let them in, whether the person he came with was the Butler? On the servant informing him that it was his Lordship, he appeared much confused, and was for withdrawing; but his Lordship, seeing his confusion, desired him to make no apology, but walk into the room; which he did, and dined with his Lordship; who, on his leaving the house after dinner, made him a present of ten pounds.

NEW-YORK, November 11.

We hear that a Party of Rebels under a Mr. Floyd, late a Member of the Congress, came over a few Days since from Connecticut, to the East End of Long Island, and committed several Murders and Depredations; but, 'tis hoped, a good account will soon be given of these lawless Freebooters.

A Gentleman lately arrived from Philadelphia, says that it was the prevailing Opinion there, that a French Fleet of great Force would arrive at New York before Christmas, which would enable the Provincials not only to recover that City and the adjacent Parts, but destroy the British Ships at present in the Harbour, and of Course reduce the British Army to the last Extremity.—Such are the Absurdities and Falsehoods, with which the Leaders of the present Rebellion endeavour to keep up the Spirits and Opposition of their deluded Followers!

The Rebels continue retreating to the Northwards, with the King's Troops close at their Heels: It is, therefore, daily expected, that some important Stroke will be given, either to defeat, or effectually disperse them.

A Detachment of the Rebels still continue at Fort Mifflin, which is constructed with Masonry, &c. and, 'tis said, cost near 30,000l. They have given out, that they will defend it to the last Extremity.

Captain Davis of the Repulse being taken dangerously ill, the Emerald, Captain Caldwell, took his Station near the Rebel Forts up Hudson's River.

Several Rebel Privateers, &c. have been lately taken and brought into this Harbour, by some of His Majesty's Ships.

A large Fleet of Transports, under Convoy of some Men of War, are preparing to sail Homewards.

Captain Evelyn, of the Light Infantry, who was wounded in a late skirmish with the Rebels, died on Wednesday last.—He was a brave and worthy Officer, and his Death is much regretted.

We hear, that his Excellency Governor Tryon, has mustered the Militia of Westchester County, and that above 1500 have already joined him, and taken the Oaths of Allegiance to His Majesty. His Excellency came to Town last Friday Night.

On Wednesday Evening last the Lively Frigate, Captain Bishopp, arrived in the Harbour from off Carolina. She brought in some Prizes with her.

Yesterday Morning, the Perseus, Capt. Elphinstone, arrived at Sandy Hook, and brought in two Prizes, valued at 5000l. Sterling.
